THOMAS AND LARZO BIG LEAGUE BOUND SAYS FORMER STAR

Red Davis had the following to say in yesterday's Florida Metropolis:

"Big league bound," says Bradley Hogg, former Philadelphia National League pitcher, after he had seen Herbert Thomas the local high school boy perform in Palatka the other day. Bradley in his day was one of the greatest pitchers who ever went from the minors to the big show, and his statement that Thomas is "big league bound" merely backs up several other predictions which have been made concerning this youngster's chances of making good.

Since Thomas joined the Palatka Pals several scouts have given him the once over. Coach Joe Bean of the Atlanta Athletic Club and Ty Cobb's Southern representative in base ball made a special trip here not long ago to look the high school phenom over. Coach Bean made his report to Cobb and while his statement was not enough for the Tiger leader to take him on right away, assurances were made that in two or three years some big league outfit would have him.

Thomas, still a student at Duval was born July 22, 1902, which makes him nineteen years old, and with careful attention and training it will not be surprising, before he reaches his twenty-first year to see some Class A or AA organization with him in their line-up.

Charley Larzo, the Pals sensational catcher, who was technically signed by the Scouts, was also recommended by Hogg. This player, according to others who have seen him perform, is one of the greatest catchers outside of organized baseball. Larzo has been the backbone of the team this season, possessing an arm which is second to none with catchers in the State League. Larzo is also a heavy hitter, swinging from the port side.

Both of these players according to Hogg are out of their stations at

UNION COUNTY'S BIRTHDAY

(By Associated Press.)

Gainesville, Sept. 9.—Union county, created by the last legislature and formed of part of Bradford county, will stage its first birthday party October 1, when the fair grounds at Lake Butler, capital of the new unit, will be the scene of a barbecue and celebration held in conjunction with the fair of the Swine Growers' and Marketing Associations of Suwannee and Union counties, and the proportions of which, it is indicated, will equal anything similar ever attempted in this section of the state.

Invitations to attend the celebration are being extended Governor Hardee, Senator Trammell, Mayor Martin of Jacksonville, and other prominent Floridians, and it is expected that speeches by these men will be features of the occasion. Fifteen heaves, 10 kids, 10 muttons, 10 porkers, a ton of ice, 50 bushels of sweet potatoes, 1,500 loaves of bread and large quantities of accessories will constitute the bill of fare, according to plans devised Labor Day at a mass meeting of citizens at Lake Butler. A brass band also will be secured.

Palatka and should be in faster company. No doubt both will take Galle's advice as the recommendation have been too strong for Thomas and Larzo to ignore.

OCKLAWAHA ROAD WILL CONTINUE TRAIN SERVICE

Arrangements have been made whereby the Ocklawaha Valley Railway will continue train service until the sale of the road under the court's order sixty days hence, according to announcement made yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Thomas, of Marion county, has levied on some of the rolling stock and equipment, but thus far has not levied on any of the road or right of way, and under an agreement reached between him and Receiver Cummings, the road will be operated with the rolling stock belonging to the Rodman Lumber Co. The same mail and passenger schedules, as well as freight, will be maintained until further notice.

Some unknowing persons have circulated the report that The News had perverted the truth in publishing that the operation of the road was to be discontinued. The News merely published the court's order to the sheriff, and it is only through the leniency of the sheriff that permission is given to operate. The News regrets as much as any one else that the road is in difficulties, but this regret does not change the status of affairs. The road owes taxes which must be paid and the law, made by the people, regulates the method of payment. The News hopes that some arrangement will be made whereby the road is maintained until that time when it will be a paying proposition with the consequent development of the country through which it now operates.

WHISTLE SHALL NOT BLOW

(By Associated Press.)

Gainesville, Sept. 9.—A stiff legislative battle was fought here recently when a member of the city council offered an ordinance compelling the city to blow the water works' whistle on every hour of the day and night until the clock in the courthouse tower, which has refused to run with any regularity during the past month, should be put in repair by county authorities.

The motion met with polite but firm protest from the city attorney, who pointed out that he lived in the vicinity of the water works and that it would never do to have the whistle blown, anyway.

Another councilman objected on the ground that he had moved to Gainesville to escape the shrieking of a sawmill whistle and to secure peace and quiet during his evenings.

When the motion was revised to require the blowing of the whistle only between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., a third councilman assailed

Bobbed Her Hair, Then Used a Wig Which a Dog Ate

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 9.—Miss Alice Bloom, a model, wore a $125 wig when her bobbed hair began to fall out. She was a guest on a yachting trip up the Hudson when her pet terrier chewed up the wig. She took it off in her suit in the morning. Bloom compromised it as smacking of class legislation, in that it permitted nocturnal slumbers of the day worker to be undisturbed, while his less fortunate fellow laborer through the still night and sought his hard earned rest at sunrise would never know a full hour's peace under its cruel and unusual provisions.

Capping the climax came the fire chief, who insisted that much confusion would result from using the whistle both as a fire alarm and an alarm clock.

The motion was lost.

THEY GET THE MOST NUTRITIOUS WHOLE-SOME BAKINGS.

Don't sacrifice quality, economy and food value by using self rising flour mixtures. They are only substitutes for good plain flour and good baking powder.

The best baking results are obtained from good baking powder and plain flour. The results are far better and more nutritious than from self rising flour.

There is no substitute for good baking powder and plain flour.

Economy does not necessarily mean cheapness of price, nor does it mean the easiest way. In these times the greatest care should be used in determining between true economy and the sham of mere cheapness because there are so many preparations and substitutes in the way of leavening agents on the market.
